NO CLUE OF ADAMS

Sons-in-Law Return From Fruitless Search For J. R. Adams, But Have Employed Detective Agencies to Continue the Search.

Messrs. Will Thompson and Newton Williams returned Friday morning at 4.00 o'clock from Cincinnati with no definite knowledge of the whereabouts of J. Robert Adams, their father-in-law, who left here July 2 and was last seen by any who knew him at Cincinnati July 5. They, with the police authorities made a careful search in Cincinnati, going to hospitals, hotels and other places where they thought he might have been, but without result except not to find him. Their search in Georgetown and Lexington, Ky., was equally fruitless. A conductor and brakeman on a train running from Cincinnati to Georgetown are positive they carried a man of his description and a conductor on an interurban street car at Georgetown is positive he hauled him to the line going to Frankfort and that he boarded a car for Frankfort. They also state that Wade Hoff, former policeman here, saw him standing on the railroad platform at Cincinnati and is positive he boarded a train for Louisville.

They made every possible effort to find him and before their return employed different detective agencies to continue the search and at Georgetown they sent out 1,000 descriptive circulars as follows, bearing the picture of the missing man:

"Missing since July 5, 1904.

"J. R. Adams, Clarksburg, W. Va.

"Description—Weight, about 140 lbs.

Slight build. Delicate appearance.

Walks slightly wing footed. Somewhat stooped. Dark brown eyes. Gray hair and beard about four inches long.

Prominent, well-formed nose. Eyes rather small with drooping lids. Dressed in black suit and wearing black soft hat.

Pleasing in general appearance and gentle and courteous in bearing.

"History—Left Clarksburg, W. Va., night of July 2, and reached Springfield, Ohio, July 3, and remained there until morning of July 5. Came to Cincinnati reaching there about 6.50 a. m., and is supposed to have left for Georgetown, Ky., on his way to Frankfort, Ky., at 7.30 the same morning. Was possibly seen in Georgetown at 9.30 on arrival of train. No definite traces of him after this. Is said to have told a railroad official in Union Station, Cincinnati, before taking train, that he was going toward Louisville. This may have been an indefinite reply to an inquiry as to his destination. His object was to visit his nephew, M. B. Adams, in Frankfort, as he had frequently done. Evidence of his whereabouts after arrival in Cincinnati not regarded as positively convincing.

"Suitable reward offered for information about him.

"Communicate with the police department in any of the above named cities.

"WILL THOMPSON,

"Clarksburg, W. Va.

"M. B. ADAMS,

"Frankfort, Ky."

Thompson and Williams are inclined to the belief that he never left Cincinnati and that he was foully dealt with there. They state that the clerk at the Arcade hotel in Springfield remembered Mr. Adams very well and told them he registered him there last January. Then he turned to the page, where he had registered him, showing them that his memory was correct. He also stated that when Mr. Adams arrived at the hotel, he requested the clerk to register his name as he was nervous and the clerk did so.

"BREATHE HEALING BALSAMS.

Hyomei's Novel Way of Curing Catarrh.

Sturm & Co. Guarantee a Cure.

This novel treatment for catarrh consists of a hard rubber inhaler of a size convenient to be carried in the vest pocket or purse, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. By its use it is possible to breathe while at home or at work air which is almost identical with that of the mountains or health resorts where the air is laden with healing and health giving balsams.

No other medicine gives such prompt relief as Hyomei in the treatment of catarrh. The first breath soothes and heals the irritated and smarting air passages, and its regular use for a few days or weeks will cure the most stubborn cases.

Sturm & Co. will sell a Hyomei outfit for $1.00 with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei, for your word decides the question as to whether you pay for the remedy or not.
